STEPHEN'S STORY

BEING KIND, FAIR, AND CREATIVE TOGETHER

Stephen was a little boy who grew up in London. He loved playing football and drawing, and wanted to be an architect one day.

Question to Class: Do you know what an architect is?

Stephen believed everyone should be treated fairly and kindly. He felt the world should be a place where everyone belongs.

WHAT IS RACISM?

Sometimes people are not treated kindly because of the colour of their skin. This is called racism.

It's not fair and wrong to treat a person differently because of the colour of their skin.

Question to Class: Can you think of a way we can show everyone belongs in our class?

STEPHENS DEATH

Something very sad happened to Stephen.

Stephen was attacked by people who did not like the colour of his skin.

Stephen died because of racism. This was very unfair and very wrong.

WHAT HAPPENED NEXT

Question to Class: Do you know what protesting is?

Stephen's family were very brave.

They wanted to make sure people knew what happened, so it would not happen again.

Many people worked together to change things.

LETS BUILD TOGETHER STEPHEN'S LEGACY

Stephen is remembered with kindness, fairness, and creativity. His story teaches us to stand up for what is right.

Could you draw a picture of a world where everyone belongs?

LETS COLOUR - STEPHEN LAWRENCE

Stephen is unique, just like you. Let's make him colourful!

STEPHENS DREAM LIVES ON

Stephen's dream was to make the world a kinder and fairer place.

He wanted to help people by building homes and designing buildings.

We can keep Stephen's dream alive when we:

- Use kind words
- Share and include others
- Work together to build and create

Every small act of kindness makes a big difference.

Stephen's story reminds us that we can all help make the world better.
